

PRIOR LEARNING ASSESSMENT

The School for Professional Student and Non-Traditional Education Programs

The School for Professional Studies will consider a maximum of thirty (30) units of university undergraduate credit for non-traditional schooling, work or other experiential learning. Neither the School for Professional Studies nor any of its representatives have the authority to grant or promise university credit for "prior learning." Credit for prior learning may not duplicate credit already awarded. Students may contact the School for Professional Studies for information on the process for applying for prior learning assessment.