Spiritual and Social Expectations (re-admission/re-activation students only)

Vanguard University is a Christian academic community that encourages individual integrity and responsibility in accordance with biblical Christianity and its social and ethical implications. Undergraduate students commit themselves to basic responsibilities. Though your perspectives might differ, you will be expected during your time as a student at Vanguard to respect and comply with these community responsibilities, which include, but are not limited to the following:

1. Mandatory chapel attendance
2. Completion of 15 Bible units
3. Non-participation in practices known to be morally wrong by biblical standards, such as drunkenness, gluttony, stealing, causing dissension among community members, slanderous or profane language, dishonesty, occult practices, premarital sex, adultery or other sexual sins as articulated in the student handbook
4. Abstention from the possession or use of alcoholic beverages, tobacco products, non-medical narcotics, or hallucinogenic drugs (including marijuana)

For more information, the complete, published Vanguard University Responsibility of Membership is available online at studentlife.vanguard.edu.

To complete your application, please sign below stating that you have read, understand and agree to uphold the Vanguard University spiritual and social expectations as summarized above.

Also, I certify that all information submitted in the admission process – including the application and supporting documentation – is my own work, factually true, and honestly presented, and that these documents will become the property of Vanguard University and will not be returned to nor duplicated for me. I understand that acceptance is subject to verification of final records from all institutions I have attended and that I may be subject to admission revocation should the information I have certified be false.
