

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

Mission: The mission of the Department of Sociology is to equip student scholars with the theoretical, methodological, and substantive knowledge to be professionally competent practitioners devoted to the public good.

The Department of Sociology is a community of learners dedicated to understanding the socio-cultural forces shaping the life experiences of human populations. The program is based on an applied, active-learning educational model that emphasizes faculty-student collaboration to engage the work of sociologists at the community level. The department's faculty offer rigorous training in Sociological Theory, Research Design and Methods, and selective substantive areas including Criminology and Criminal Justice, Immigration and Migrant studies, Public Health, Social Work, and Social Inequality and Justice. We strive to cultivate in our students a moral vision of professional life so they remain committed to advancing public good in the vocations they pursue as Vanguard alumni.

The Department of Sociology also administers the following minors: Criminology and the Criminal Justice System, Public Health, Social Work, and Sociology.

Majors must achieve a minimum grade of "C-" in all upper division sociology courses required for the major.
